

RGI Inclusion Newsletter

July 2025

As we draw to the end of the school year, we know that transition can cause some anxiety and worry for some children. Over the past half term, we have been working together in school to ensure the children have a smooth transition from their current class into their new class for September. Here are some of the things we have done:

- Teachers have met their new classes for story times.
- The children have spent time in their new classes to get to know their new teacher, teaching assistant and learning environment.
- Teachers have met together and talked through all the children in their new class, including additional academic needs and social and emotional needs.
- I have met with the SENDCO at the Junior school to share information and the Year 2 children have had many visits to the Junior school to become familiar with their new school.

We know when returning to school in September it can be a tricky time for some children, so below are some ideas to support your child at home.

The Inclusion Team

How do I support my child's transition?

- Discuss endings and new beginnings; keep conversations open and honest.
- Preparation language (e.g. when you're in Year 2...)
- Talk to your child about what will stay the same and what will change.
- Allow your child to decompress, process and reflect on their days at school.
- Focus on the positives but also allow space for doubts and concerns.
- Share positives stories of your own transitions
