

Year 1 - November 2020

We have really enjoyed working from the book 'The Lighthouse Keeper's Lunch' by Rhonda and David Armitage.

Literacy

We started by learning about adjectives (describing words) by tasting a few things that Mr Grinling may have had in his lunch (ham, tuna, cucumber, bread) and have discussed how adjectives can make our writing much more interesting. We have practised our labelling skills on our sandwich design, with some of us adding adjectives such as 'tasty' and 'smooth'. We have also learned how to write a list so that we knew what we needed to buy to make our sandwiches. This will come in handy for writing our Christmas lists too! We are moving on to learn how to write instructions so that someone else can make our sandwiches. See if we can tell you about instructions at home!

Design Technology

We designed our own sandwiches and got to make them and eat them in school. The following day we evaluated our design, thinking about what we liked and if there was anything we would change next time. It was lots of fun!

Maths

We have been learning about 2D and 3D shape. We have learned the names of the shapes and have practised sorting them by colour, size and type. We have used them to create repeating patterns as well. We have spent time learning about place value and can recognise the tens and ones in a number. For example, we know that 15 is equal to one ten and 5 ones. We have also spent time comparing numbers and deciding which is more/less and greater /fewer.

Science

We have continued to explore how we use our senses by taking part in two experiments. One was to use our sense of taste alone to determine the flavour of a 1/4 fruit pastille. The other was to use our sense of smell to determine the flavour of 4 different types of crisp. We discussed how we often use both our sense of smell and taste to decide if we like foods or not. We also talked about how our sense of smell can detect danger such as smoke from a fire.
